

ACS TSCM “Debugging”

In 2022, with the ease of lockdown restrictions and Offices having been unoccupied due to COVID-19, TSCM is of more importance than ever.

As we enter a New Year, and with the majority of the workforce returning to Offices due to the ease of lockdown restrictions and increased number of vaccinations, it should be kept in mind that Offices have been unoccupied for long periods of time or only occupied by skeleton staff/sub-contractors. This leads once again to the importance of having Offices checked regularly for possible eavesdropping and to avoid a security breach or compromise to your Company’s Intellectual Property (IP). ACS can assist with these services, comprising of the four Pillars as indicated below.
